- Further Linear Algebra, spring 2021, a 2nd year module. I rewrote the module & gave the lectures.
- Mathematical Skills, autumn 2020, a 1st year module. I was module organiser for this module.
- Algebraic Topology, autumn semester 2021, a 3rd/4th year module. I was module organiser for this module. This was a new module which I created. I wrote all the content for this module lecture notes, exercise sheets, etc.
- Algebra I: Group theory Spring 2020, Spring 2021, a 1st year module. I was module organiser for this module in 2020-2021. This was a new module that I designed, creating all the materials.

Innovative teaching methods

- Live chat running during the lecture allowing the students to type questions, 2019–present.
- Recording lectures using laptop to give clear image of blackboards, 2021–present.
- Getting students to give talks / record "explainer videos", Group Theory 2020–present.
- Online teaching 2020-2021 using iPad and blackboard collaborate to stream and record lectures.
- Mathematical Problem Solving module (2016, 2017): Oral assessment of students (a novel assessment in mathematics); Set up group chat on Facebook with mathematical problem solving group to share photographs of whiteboards on which students had written up their solutions and corrections to other students' solutions (peer marking) on whiteboard walls in the UEA enterprise centre.
- Semigroup Theory (2016, 2018): Group work as part of Formative Assessment. Each group submitted a photograph of their group working on the problems. Then they marked each others' work. Also gave incomplete lecture notes and class was split into teams, and each week one team prepared the solution to one set of lemmas, and then during the lecture they were invited to the board to explain their solutions.
